Change Your Clock Change Your Battery:

Daylight Savings Time in the U.S. starts at 2 a.m. on Sunday, March 9, 2014. This is when you will set your clocks ahead one hour. Many do this before going to bed on Saturday night, so they won't forget to "spring ahead" in the morning.

For 26 years Energizer, in partnership with the International Association of Fire Chiefs (IAFC), has been helping to keep families safe through their Change Your Clock Change Your Battery® program. Remember to test and change your smoke and carbon monoxide detectors when you change your clock to and from Daylight Savings Time. As a family, review your home fire safety plans and remind your friends, family and neighbors of the life-saving habit of changing and testing smoke alarm batteries.

Sometimes saving a life can be that simple – Change Your Clock Change Your Battery[®].
