Consumer Protection Agency: 'Tis the Season to Decorate Safely

During November and December 2014, there were 12 fatalities and an estimated 14,500 injuries treated in hospital ERs nationwide, due to holiday decorations. That's an average of about 240 injuries per day during the holiday season!

Falls, lacerations, back strains and ingestion of foreign objects were among the top holiday decorating-related injuries last season.

To prevent decorating disasters, CPSC counts down the 12 Ways to Celebrate Safely. Click on the image below for the 12 safety tips.
