NFPA Fire Work Safety, Source: NFPA's Fireworks report, by Marty Ahrens, June 2016

Each July 4th, thousands of people, most often children and teens, are injured while using consumer fireworks. Despite the dangers of fireworks, few people understand the associated risks - devastating burns, other injuries, fires, and even death.

The Alliance to Stop Consumer Fireworks is a group of health and safety organizations, coordinated by NFPA, that urges the public to avoid the use of consumer fireworks and instead, to enjoy displays of fireworks conducted by trained professionals.

NFPA's Dan Doofus urges people not to use consumer fireworks because they are too dangerous. Fireworks are responsible for thousands of fires and injuries each year.

Fireworks by the numbers

From 2009-2013, U.S. fire departments responded to an average of 18,500 fires caused by fireworks. These fires included 1,300 structure fires, 300 vehicle fires and 16,900 outside and other fires. An estimated two people were killed in these fires.

In 2014, U.S. hospital emergency rooms treated an estimated 10,500 people for fireworks related injuries; 51% of those injuries were to the extremities and 38% were to the head. These injury estimates were obtained or derived from the Consumer Product Safety Commission's 2014 Fireworks Annual Report by Yongling Tu and Demar Granados.

The risk of fireworks injury is highest for young people ages 5-9, followed by children 10-19. More than one-quarter (28%) of fires started by fireworks in 2009-2013 were reported on July 4th. Almost half (47%) of the reported fires on the Fourth of July were started by fireworks.

FIREWORKS

Each year, fireworks injure thousands and cause thousands of fires.

Fireworks cause an estimated 18,500 reported fires in the U.S. each year.

U.S. hospital emergency rooms saw an estimated 10,500 people for fireworks-related injuries in 2014.

Fireworks Injuries: Demographics

Injuries by Age of Victim

MALES ACCOUNT FOR 74% OF FIREWORKS-RELATED INJURIES

However, children aged 5-9 are actually more than twice as likely as other age groups to be injured by fireworks when looking at relative risk based on population totals of each age group.

About 1 in 4 fires started by fireworks each year, are reported on Independence Day.

Be safe. If you want to see fireworks, go to a public show put on by experts.
