Pittsfield Charter Township Launches New Web Site

Ann Arbor (October 15, 2009) – Pittsfield Township unveils its redesigned website with a new address at <http://pittsfield-mi.gov>. “Anyone typing in our old address will automatically be re-directed to our new home page. The change over will be seamless and has been in the planning stages for months,” Supervisor Mandy Grewal explained.

“This dramatic face-lift and up-grade was accomplished at no extra cost to the taxpayers of Pittsfield Charter Township. Using in-house talent and a phased-in approach, the web site will continue to be improved in the next few months. We started with the ‘look’ and now move on to refine the content and improve the usability of the site,” Grewal explained.

“Our goal was to achieve an image that represents the natural beauty of the Township and reflects the vitality and creativity that are integral traits of the area,” Grewal described. “Using color and photographic images that capture the vibrant personality of the Township, visitors will find a treasure trove of informational resources to acquaint them with our community and the services provided by Pittsfield township government,” she remarked.

“The new web site is a work in progress that will continue to adapt to meet the needs of the people who rely on the internet to access information and get things done,” Grewal emphasized.

“I invite everyone to visit <http://pittsfield-mi.gov>. The web site will be an extension of our mission to be the best at what we do, and our goal to make every experience with Pittsfield Charter Township government as user-friendly and pleasant as possible.” Grewal concluded.
